

Builder's Reuse and Recycling Guide

A Directory of Construction and Demolition Material Reuse and Recycling Firms

Reuse and recycle materials resulting from construction and demolition (C&D) projects.

Save money

by avoiding disposal costs.

Protect our environment

by avoiding unnecessary disposal of construction and demolition materials.

Always Call First

Discuss your recycling goals in advance with the recycling facility you plan to use.

Be sure to comply with city requirements. Call the city where your project is located for information on local disposal, recycling requirements and services.

The reuse and recycling industry constantly change. Call your selected recycling facility to confirm charges, hours of operation, and materials accepted, and material preparation requirements.

Call first to confirm:

- that your materials will be accepted.
- that salvageable and reusable materials are accepted.
- on-site services for separated or mixed construction and demolition debris.

Business listings should not be construed as recommendation or endorsement by the City of Morgan Hill or the City of Gilroy. Diversion of specific loads and materials is at the discretion of the facility.

To suggest businesses or changes to future editions of this guide, email environ@morganhill.ca.gov.

Salvage

Remove salvageable items first whenever you demolish part or all a home or building. Salvage is the careful removal of reusable building materials before demolition. Choose a facility that offers "Reuse" from the following listings.

Typical salvageable materials include:

Architectural details (columns, fireplace mantels, and molding), cabinets, doors, lighting fixtures, lumber, plumbing fixtures, windows, and wood flooring and fencing.

Recycle Separated Materials

Separating construction and demolition debris by individual material type may result in lower recycling fees. Some facilities will provide on-site recycling and collection of separated construction and demolition debris.

Typical recyclable materials that can be separated at the job site include:

Asphalt, cardboard, concrete, metal, and untreated wood.

Recycle Mixed Materials

If you are unable to separate construction and demolition debris at your job site due to space constraints or other restrictions, you may still be able to recycle mixed construction / demolition debris. Check the listing for facilities that accept "Mixed Construction/Demolition Debris." Some facilities will provide on-site recycling and collection of mixed construction and demolition debris.

Not Recyclable!

Garbage such as lunch waste, food packaging, stained or painted wood, and dirty drop cloths are not recyclable.

Hazardous Waste such as asbestos-containing materials, solvents, paint thinners, mercury switches, pressure-treated and creosote-treated wood are not recyclable.

Call the Santa Clara County Hazardous Waste Drop Off Program at (408) 299-7300 for information on proper handling and disposal of hazardous wastes.
